PROBLEM STATEMENT

❑ Traditional portfolios are often limited, inaccessible, and difficult to update, making it challenging for individuals to effectively showcase their skills and work

❑ A digital portfolio solves this by providing a dynamic, accessible, and easily updatable platform for personal and professional presentation.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

➢ Many individuals struggle to effectively present their skills, projects, and achievements using traditional paper-based or static formats.

➢ These methods lack accessibility, interactivity, and ease of updating.

➢ A digital portfolio addresses this issue by offering a dynamic, centralized, and professional platform to showcase work, improving visibility and engagement in academic or professional environments.

WHO ARE THE END USERS?

✓ Teachers and Professors
  – They use the digital portfolio to assess students' learning progress, project work, and overall academic performance in a more interactive and organized format.

✓ Employers and Recruiters
  –They review digital portfolios to evaluate a candidate's qualifications, practical skills, and suitability for internships, jobs, or freelance opportunities

✓ Clients
  – In cases where students offer services like design, writing, or programming, clients use the portfolio to assess the student's previous work before hiring

✓ Students
  – They are the primary users who create and maintain the digital portfolio to showcase their academic achievements, skills, projects, and experiences.
